THE UMBRA STORY

In 1979, friends Les Mandelbaum and Paul Rowan transformed a simple window shade into a beacon of modern, accessible design and in doing so began Umbra out of Toronto, Canada. The name was fittingly derived from the latin word for "shade" and now inspires homes in over 120 countries with offices from Europe to China.

Driven by innovation and a passion for creativity, our team of international designers redefines everyday items with a bold approach. In 2007, Umbra's commitment to accessible design was further showcased by the opening of its flagship store in downtown Toronto—a center of creativity where design enthusiasts gather to connect with our visionary products. Umbra continues to evolve, proving that original design can indeed be a part of every home.
